TABLE OF CONTENTS

AUGUST COVER ARTIST

FROM THE ARTIST: TIM JACOB

School Traffic, Acrylic on Canvas

I began painting regularly in 2002 and use a technique I call “puddle painting.” It is watery, acrylic overlays of color, bordering on impressionism. The technique came to me after spilling coffee one morning. It is a slow process and allows me to play and have fun while painting. I also experiment with a palette knife in some portraits and Delta scenes.

Capturing light is the essence of art. Attempting to contrast both natural and artificial light is a constant theme in my cityscapes. For scenes at night and inside, I first paint my canvas black and then attempt to bring out light in each work. Although I’m far from a pluviophile, rainy night traffic is a favorite scene to paint, as the reflected light explodes from all angles.

Much of my work is of the Delta. The flat, desolate, stark countryside comes alive every spring and is unique to the Mid-South. It is a special place to me and, in many ways, a step back in history and lifestyle. The older water towers and the miles and miles of crop rows are typical of the slow-moving pace of life in the small towns of East Arkansas, Western Mississippi, and Northeast Louisiana.

I do not sign my work but instead hide the initials “JT” in each piece. It is a tribute to my son and daughter, Justin and Taylor. It started as a game when they were young, and I’ve continued it ever since.

My art has shown in San Diego, CA; Nashville, TN; and all over Arkansas.

OPENING EXHIBITIONS

Steven Wise: O... Is For Ozarks

AUGUST 12-OCTOBER 29

LOFT GALLERY GALLERY

O...Is for Ozarks is made up of large pictures inspired by artist Steven Wise's study of the Ozark Mountains, the natural surroundings in which he lives and which he considers home. These new works derive from his exploration of the natural world of northwest Arkansas as both naturalist and artist.

Steven Wise is a painter and a father of five children, with the younger three living at home. He lives in a duplex at the end of a cul-de-sac near soccer fields, bike trails, and a string of chicken-processing plants in Rogers, Arkansas. All the while painting and exhibiting work, Wise spends the bulk of his time teaching elementary art in the Rogers Public Schools and teaching drawing and painting at Northwest Arkansas Community College.

Yard Work: Inspirations Found in Our Own Backyards | THROUGH OCT 1 | UNDERGROUND GALLERY

SATURDAYS AT THE GALLERIES

(inside Roberts Library)

MAY 28 - AUG 27 | 11 AM-2PM

The weekends are for CALS and exploring the amazing variety of artisans that Arkansas has to offer. CALS is hosting "Saturdays at the Galleries," a series of artist demonstrations at the CALS Galleries & Bookstore at Library Square. This free public event will be held each Saturday from May 28 through August 27 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and is an opportunity for visitors to meet local artists as they demonstrate their skills and discuss their works. Each Saturday will feature a different artisan, with specialties such as painting, glass work, jewelry making, and even pickling.

All artists either have merchandise available for sale or are featured in the exhibitions at the Galleries & Bookstore.

ARKANSAS SOUND PRESENTS: A CELEBRATION OF KABF'S JOHN CAIN

AUG 27 • SAT • DOORS OPEN 6 PM • EVENT STARTS AT 7PM

IN-PERSON • RON ROBINSON THEATER • ADULTS

CALS Arkansas Sounds will honor Cain's 57-year (and counting!) broadcasting career with rare audio and video clips along with a panel discussion with friends and family telling stories and reminiscing about John's importance and legacy in the central Arkansas community. This 85-year-old Wrightsville native is still on the air every day and guiding his listeners through the history of jazz music with his radio programs. John's love of history and his efforts in preservation, particularly Arkansas African American history, led him to help save the Mosaic Templars building and eventually helped establish the Mosaic Templars Cultural Center, the museum of African American history and culture in Arkansas. Don't miss this chance to celebrate this beloved broadcaster, John Cain!

General admission tickets are $10. Ticket proceeds benefit the KABF radio station and the Central Arkansas Library System. Beer, wine, and concessions will be available, and tickets can be purchased at the door. For more information and to purchase tickets online, visit RonRobinsonTheater.org.

UNCOVERING THE RICH HISTORY OF HOMES IN HISTORICALLY AFRICAN AMERICAN NEIGHBORHOODS

SAT • AUG 6 • 10 AM

IN-PERSON • ROBERTS LIBRARY • ADULTS
RECURRING: NO • REGISTRATION: NO

Property research can be difficult even when a wealth of information is available. The lack of historical records related to the African American experience in Arkansas can make the task of conducting this research for homes in historically African American neighborhoods even more daunting. Join us at the CALS Williams Library in the Dunbar Historic District to learn some tips and tricks for researching the history of homes and their inhabitants in historically African American communities using resources available through the Central Arkansas Library System and the archival collections at the CALS Roberts Library.

Danielle Afsordeh, Community Outreach Archivist at the CALS Roberts Library/Butler Center for Arkansas Studies, presents this program in coordination with the Quapaw Quarter Association and the Dunbar Historic Neighborhood Association.

DIY MEMORY LAB AT ROBERTS LIBRARY

CALS Roberts Library has created a DIY Memory Lab so patrons can digitize their family photographs and (coming soon!) personal VHS/ Beta video cassettes and audio cassettes. The Memory Lab is available by appointment for patron use Tuesday through Friday 10am to 4:30pm, and on Saturday as needed.

It is intended to be DO-IT-YOURSELF with a little training, but staff is available to assist you. The Memory Lab is open to everyone; a CALS Library Card is NOT required.

More information is available at RobertsLibrary.org/MemoryLab, or call the Roberts Library Research Room 501-320-5700 or email memorylab@cals.org.
