

COLOR YOUR CARD

Limited Edition Library Card Competition

Get ready to Color Your World and showcase your “Main Character Energy” by designing our next limited edition library card! We’re inviting artists of all ages to tap into their creativity and imagine what a library card that truly expresses your unique story and vibrant world would look like. Submit your original artwork for a chance to see your design printed on a special card, with three winning entries selected – one from a child, one from a teen, and one from an adult – becoming a part of our exciting Main library reopening celebration!

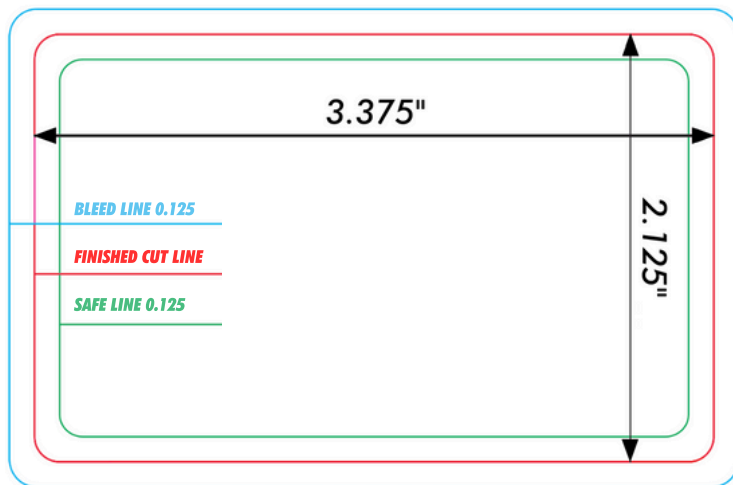

To participate, upload your artwork via our online submission form by July 31st at 11:59pm. Please submit a large format, high resolution image. The three winners will be invited to work with our design team to lay out the cards!
